‘Not All Classrooms Have Walls’

Outdoor education provides opportunities and benefits that cannot be replicated or achieved in the classroom

Under the National Outdoor Adventure Masterplan, every student is given the opportunity to experience outdoor education as part of the school curriculum through the Programme for Active Living, physical education lessons and cohort camps, to build confidence, resilience, ruggedness, and social cohesion

Secondary 1: All Aboard

Stepping Out of Comfort Zones – Engaging in challenging activities (e.g., a kayaking, bouldering) fosters self-assurance by pushing personal limits. Emphasizing "challenge by choice" ensures individuals grow at their own pace while building resilience.

Positive Reinforcement – Encouragement from peers, teachers, and mentors helps individuals recognize and believe in their own strengths and potential.

Small Wins – Celebrating incremental achievements (e.g., completing an expedition or mastering a new skill) reinforces self-esteem and motivates continued growth.
